

---

ABB H-Shield 266 Pressure Transmitter with remote seals

The ABB H-Shield 266 pressure transmitter is engineered to resist hydrogen ion permeability, maintain stability at elevated temperatures, preserve diaphragm flexibility, exhibit exceptional durability, and boast a reduced coefficient of friction.

Its H-Shield film components serve as formidable barriers against hydrogen permeation, even under extreme heat conditions. This ABB innovation outperforms gold plating, delivering superior outcomes at a more economical price point.

ABB